

Miles Community College Financial Aid Terms and Conditions- Your Rights and Responsibilities for Receiving Financial Aid at Miles Community College

Explanation of Your Estimate of Financial Aid (Offer)

- The financial aid offer represents an accurate estimate of your aid if the information you provided on the FAFSA is correct. This offer is contingent upon the availability of funds and is subject to change during the award period in accordance with federal regulations, institutional policy, and the accuracy of the information provided by you.
- The Federal Pell Grant value initially listed represents the amount associated with the anticipated enrollment status you provided on the MCC Student Data Form. The Pell grant will be adjusted to reflect eligibility once your enrollment is locked at the end of the 6th day of classes fall/spring semester and the end of the 4th day of classes summer semester. If you will be enrolled in courses at another institution while receiving financial aid at MCC, you will need to complete a Consortium Agreement to have those credits included in your enrollment status for your MCC aid. Wait-listed courses are not counted in your enrollment status.
- Tuition waivers will adjust to match tuition charges, or apply for the specific amount offered. An increase or decrease in credits will affect the actual value of the waiver if it is based upon enrolled credits. Mandatory and optional fees are not covered with tuition waivers.
- All Federal Direct Student Loans and Federal Plus loans are subject to origination fees. The amount disbursed will be less than the award amounts shown. Students must be enrolled in a minimum of six credits to qualify for a federal loan.
- Work-study is awarded for the entire enrollment period and may be earned in unequal amounts each semester of the period.
- Non-degree seeking students are not eligible for federal financial aid.
