

Notice of Institutional Accreditation

Miles Community College is accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU), an institutional accrediting body recognized by the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Education.

Accreditation by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities indicates that Miles Community College meets or exceeds criteria for the assessment of institutional quality, as evaluated through a peer review process. An accredited college or university is one which has available the necessary resources to achieve its stated purposes through appropriate educational programs, is substantially doing so, and gives reasonable evidence that it will continue to do so in the foreseeable future. Institutional integrity is also addressed through accreditation.

Accreditation by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities is not partial; instead, accreditation applies to the institution as a whole. As such, it provides reasonable assurance about the quality and equity of opportunities available to students who attend the institution.

Inquiries regarding Miles Community College's accredited status by the Northwest Commission on College and Universities should be directed to the executive staff of the institution.
